Chilli and Checkers are a lovely affectionate pair of young cats.

They enjoy fuss and attention and will push into your hand when receiving head scratches.

They do not overly enjoy being icked up and restrained, but will tolerate it for short amounts of time.

The boys can be a little wary when entering a new environment, so time and patience will be required to help these boys settle into a new home.

The boys will need access to the indoors and outdoors and could live with calm children of around primary school age and above.

This assessment is ongoing and may change as time goes on.
