Eddie is quite a nervous boy and is looking for a home with someone who will take things slowly with him and let him come out of his shell in his own time. In his pod he likes to hide in his bed where he seems to feel safe. He vocalises with loud meows and kneads his bed when you enter.

Eddie loves his treats and seems to gain enough confidence for a stroke and fuss once you have brought the treats out. He loves a good scratch along his body and head but can be grouchy with his tummy, tail and feet being touched. Eddie is not too sure on how to use a cat flap at the moment, so may need some help with this in the future.

Eddie is looking to be the only animal in the home and would like to be in an adult only home also.

This assessment is ongoing and aspects may change as time goes by.
