Smudge is a lovely and friendly 4 year old boy who craves your attention. He is always showing off at the front of his pod wanting you to go in and tickle him. He loves head scratches and loves putting his paws on your chest to rub his head against yours. Smudge uses his litter trays well but can often be messy and kick his litter everywhere. Hooded or lipped trays would be good to prevent this from happening. Smudge loves being brushed and this is necessary to keep on top of as he is semi-longhaired. Smudge does get quite stressed being transported or going to new places like the vets so it is important he is given a place to hide and some time to readjust after these experiences. He soon relaxes back into his calm and friendly nature.

Smudge could live with children ages 10+ and would like to be the only cat in the home.
