Magic, Olive and 2 other cats were brought to the Centre when their owner died. Two of the bunch have now been successfully re-homed leaving Magic and Olive still searching for a home together. They both have lovely kind natures and are very affectionate, but quite upset to find themselves in the cattery away from all they have known and loved. Magic and Olive can be a bit nervous of new people so we are searching for a quieter home where they will be able to adjust and build their confidence in their own time.
