What's up pussycat? It's not unusual to find a black and white cat in a rehoming centre but this special boy really does deserve to find a loving home. Tom is quite nervous about being in the centre and tends to hide outside quite a bit but baby its cold outside and Tom needs a warm comfy bed. He is a very sweet boy who is just looking for a quiet home where he can settle in in his own time. It would be best for Tom to be a house cat for a good few months to begin with but in time he might want to go out and feel the green green grass of home in the garden. All jokes aside, Tom is such a gentle boy who is just looking for someone to trust and love (and kiss). If you think you could provide him with the perfect forever home please come and meet him.
