Introducing His Royal Highness - Prince.

Prince is an absolutely gorgeous young lad with a lot of love to give.

Prince is so unaware of his size it is almost funny! He is big and strong and stubborn but is a truly wonderful dog.

He knows most of his basic commands, but more training is needed with this chunk to guide him in the right direction.

He loves loves loves his toys and will do just about anything for them, this comes as a great training aid as he will work well for the reward of a toy.

Prince is a real people person and loves to receive plenty of fuss and love, he has shown to be a little wary of a couple of individuals at the centre so introductions must be made slowly and positively.

Prince requires an adult only home.

Prince is a known escape artist so external doors will need to be locked at all times and will require a minimum of 6-7ft secure fenced back garden.

This assessment is ongoing and aspects may change at any time in the future.
