Princess is such a loving and affectionate little lady. She will head bump and arch into your strokes to get every last bit of your attention. As soon as she she's you she is there strutting her stuff looking for attention. Whilst grooming she didn't mind the brush but she really enjoyed the glove, she couldn't get enough of this. She is fine with being picked up but she is a bit of an action cat that enjoys her own freedom and likes pottering around. She plays a little with a flirt pole but isn't over enthusiastic about it and loses interest easily, her main desire in life is human affection and lots of it.

Princess is a beautiful cat inside and out and will make a lovely cat for most households, but will certainly need a family that has time to give her all the attention she craves and deserves.
