Kimmy is a playful soul and loves her toys more than anything!! She is an independent dog and will take herself to settle when having quiet time in the reception. She has come on leaps and bounds since being with us and has improved with being handled and brushed, but at times she will only tolerate short periods. Her new owners will need to be patience with her at times. She will take time to fully settle into her new home.

Kimmy needs continued training in the home as she pulls on the lead and can be nervous of new people, especially men.

She is looking for an experiecned owner, in an adult only home and to be the only pet.

I'd prefer not to live with a cat

I'd prefer to be the only dog in a home

I love playing with toys

I'd prefer an adult only household
